

Child Sexual Abuse in Schools:

lessons from history, guidance for the future

Commissioned by the Independent Schools Council

---

David Smellie, Jan Pickles OBE, Sarah Fletcher and Mary Breen

Contents

1. Backdrop and research into CSA in schools	3
1.1 Introduction	3
1.2 Context	3
1.3 Prevalence of CSA	4
1.4 Research into CSA typology	4
1.5 Institutional response	6
1.6 An environment in which abuse can occur	6
1.7 Institutional child sex offenders	7
1.8 Grooming	8
2. Recurring themes of CSA in schools	10
2.1 “Kings in own kingdoms”	10
2.2 High performance environments	11
2.3 Remote or isolated locations	12
2.4 Culture slippage	12
2.5 Victims’ inhibitions to seeking help	14
2.6 Failure to report by the school	15
2.7 Confusion between criminal and internal disciplinary processes	16
2.8 Failure to recognise adult vulnerability or inadequacy	17
2.9 Failure to recognise vulnerable children	18
2.10 Lack of effective record keeping and sharing	19
2.11 Drowning out the voice of the child	19
2.12 Governance failure	20
3. Reducing the risk	22
3.1 The impact of regulation and inspection	22
3.2 Organisational/cultural solutions	23
3.3 Low-level concerns	25
3.4 A move to safeguarding risk assessment	25
3.5 Safeguarding crisis management	26
3.6 Conclusion	27
Biographies	28
Appendix A
Appendix B

